

JAY JONES

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

In the Democratic primary on June 8, VIRGINIA CAN MAKE HISTORY by electing its first Black Attorney General.

Jay was born and raised in Norfolk. His family, descendants of slaves, has lived in Norfolk for generations and has a long history of public service. His grandfather was a civil rights attorney and the first Black member of the Norfolk School Board and the first Black member of the State Board of Education.

Jay serves as a state delegate, delivering progressive results that expanded access to health care, increased the minimum wage, and protected our air, water and land.

Now, he's running for Attorney General to address the racial disparities exposed by COVID-19, root out systemic racism and bias in the justice system, prosecute police misconduct and reduce mass incarceration.

GOVERNOR RALPH NORTHAM ENDORSES JAY JONES

“It is time for a new generation of leaders to take the reins. Jay Jones has stood with me every step of the way in our journey to make Virginia a more just and equitable place to live. He has been my partner as we have worked to change our Commonwealth. I'm honored to endorse him in his race for Attorney General.”

- Gov. Ralph Northam

Jay is also endorsed by over 80 federal, state and local elected officials:
